ALL THE DEFENDANTS HELD.

Bauerelsen, Broderick and Goding Bound Over in Chleago.

DAVID ADDRESSES THE COURT.

Deputy Sheriffs Prepared to Serve New Warrants as Soon as the Prisoners Shall Furnish Their Bonds.

Held for Trial.

Circago, July 19 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- Bauereisen, Broderick and Goding, the three remaining defendants in the Burlington dynamite consuracy case, were to-day held to the grand jury in sums of $5,000 each by United States Commissione

When court opened to-day the defendants' counsel asked the district attorney if he had rested his case, and, receiving an affirmative reply, said: "Then we rest our case, and are prepared to discuss the proofs."

Mr. Ewing-"We do not care to make any argument." The defense thought that it was only fair that the prosecution should state the grounds upon which it asked that any of the defendants should be held.

"There seems to me to be no need of that We simply ask that they be held on the evidence. The defense was obliged to begin their arguments, which they did in a somewhat remarkable manner. Mr. David thus addressed the court: "I have," said he, "nerve and brains enough to say to you that Broderick should be held to the grand jury; I have nerve and brains, too, to say to you that a court that will hold Goding on this evidence is unworthy the name of an American citi zen, and if you hold this young man you have not the best interests of society at heart."

Commissioner Hoyne sat unmoved and did not rebuke the flery attorney, who continued. "The only connection Goding had with the case was in the fact that he gave Smith an order for a package at his house. It has not been shown what the package contained whether its contents were dynamite or po-

His associate, Mr. Donahoe, then commented on the evidence given by Bowles whom he stigmatized as a murderer at heart and said that even he had not implicated Goding The only evidence against him a that he went with Smith to his house. He said that there was no evidence against Bauereisen either, as the only time are name was mentioned was by Bowies. There had been a great deal of talk; everything was admitted, but there had not been a semitifia of testimony that went to show that either Bauereisen or Broderick was guilty of the offense for which they were arrested.

The court then announced his decision a follows: "I am very free to say that the evidence against Goding was not so strong as wainst some of the other defendants but think that his connection with them has been shown. I think that I would not be doing my duty if I did not hold all the defendants to the grand lury. If they can prove that they are innocent it will be so much to their credit. I must hold Bauereisen, Broderick, and Goding to the grand jury."

Mr. Fwing thought that the bail should be

$5,000 in each case, but Mr. David objected, saying that Broderick could not furnish that amount of bail. This would necessitate his incarecration in jail for four or five months for an offense the full penalty for which is an imprisonment for one month. Commissioner Hoyne decided, however, to let the bonds remain at $5,000 for the present, but said he would hear an application for a reduction of the amount after a consultation with th lawvers. After the bail had been fixed by the cour the three prisoners were taken into the may shal's office, where Bauereisen waited for his bondsmen to appear so that he could secure his release. Outside, however, were Deputy Sheriffs Burke and Cleveland, armed with warrant for his arrest under the state dyna mite law. The warrant was sworn out fore Justice Lyon and was issued under the statute which provides for a punishment of not less than five nor more than twenty-five years' imprisonment. Bauereisen will be prosecuted on this charge, which is the same as that against the three anarchists. There two prisoners, because they are not able to

'How many more warrants have you against us!" asked Mr. David of Mr. Collier as his client was being led out of the court.
"We have several, and we are going to an rest him on every one of the charges," the uncompromising reply.

These warrants are for offenses committed in Aurora, and will be served as soon as pos-sible. There are also warrants for Broderick and Goding, but as these two are not able to obtain bail they will not be served till they are released from the county jail. It is not the intention of the prosecution to have a trial before Justice Lyon to-day, but Bowles will be brought into court to give enough evidence to determine the amount of bail, and then the case will be continued. was decided to take Bauereisen to Aurora this afternoon, where the other warrants will be served.

THE LOYAL SONS OF ILLINOIS

They Call on General Harrison at His Indianapolis Home.

A Speech of Congratulation Responded to in a Feeling Manner By the Republican Nominee

For the President.

Harrison's Illinois Day. INDIANAPOLIS, July 19,-This was Illinois lay with General Harrison, and delegations from Springfield, Monticello, Decatur and Jacksonville arrived at noon. The Veterans, Black Eagles and Lincoln clubs of Springfield numbered 304. They carried in an ele vated cage a large black cagic. Altogether there were about eight hundred visitors from Illimois, among whom were Secretary of State Dement, Attorney General Hunt, Major J. A. Connelly, and Hon. David T. Littler. They called on General Harrison at three o'clock at the new Denison hotel. Attorney General Hunt acted as spokesman, and con-gratulated General Harrison in an eloquent speech. General Harrison replied as fol-

"I thank you for this cordial expression of your interest in republican success. I rejoice to know that Indiana and Illinois have been neighborly in the high sentiments and pur-poses which have characterized their people reloice to know that the same high spirit of loyalty and devotion which characterized the state of Illinois when the nation made its appeal to the brave men of all states to rescu-its flag and its constitution from the insurits flag and its constitution from the insur-rection which had been raised against them was equally characteristic of Indiana; that the same great impulse that swept over your state swept over ours; that Richard Yates, of Illinois, and Oliver P. Alorton, of Indiana, stood together in fullest sympathy and co-operation in the great plan they devised to augment and reinforce the union armies in the field and to put down the treasonable conspiracies at home. I recall that it was on the soil of Illinois that Lovejoy died, a martyr to free speech. He was the forerunner of Abraham Lincoln. He died, but his protest against human slavery lived. There is another great epoch in the march of iberty formed on the soil of Illinois. I refer to that high debate in the presence of your people in which Douglas won the senatorship and Lincoln the presidency and immortal fame. But Lincoln's argument and proclamation must be made good on the pattlefield, and again your state was conspicuous. You and again your state was conspicuous. You gave us Grant and Logan and a multitude of less notable but not less faithful soldiers, who, under them, wrote the proclamation with their swords. I congratulate you to day that there has come out of this early agitation; out of the work of Lovelov, the disturber; out of the great de bate of 1858, and out of the war a natior without a slave; that not the shackles o slavery only have been broken, but that the scarcely less cruel shackles of prejudice which bound every black man in the north have also been unbound. We are glad to know that the enlightened sentiment of the outh to-day unites with us in our congratu lations that slavery has been abolished. The bave come to realize, and many of their best and greatest men to publiely express the thought, that the abolition of slavery has opened the gateway of progress and material development to the south that was forever closed against her people while slavery existed. We would lay apon their people no burdens that we do no willingly bear ourselves. A manly assertion by each of his individual rights and manly concession of equal rights to every other man is the boast and law of good citizen-

The visitors were then presented to the general, and after handshaking he returned o his residence.

This evening a delegation from Shelby ville, Ind., arrived, over one thousand strong, and, accompanied by the Illinois clubs, marched to General Harrison's house, where they were welcomed in an appropri-ate speech by General Harrison After shaking hands with the general they re-turned to the Denison hotel, where a large crowd was being entertained with speeches by General Hunt and other Illinois orators.

The County Democracy Doomed. New York, July 19 .- [Special Telegram to Fire Beg. |-From present appearances the dissolution of the county democracy is immi cent. The democratic politicians for the past fortnight have realized that there were defections from the organization which threatened its vitality. It has been well known that Fire Commissioner Henry D Parroy has been on the point of leaving the democratic organization and returning to Tammany hall. Parroy has been a power in the county democracy. His abandonment, it is said, means more than appears on the surface. He has had the distribution for the past three years of all the municipal, state and national patronage in the Twenty-fourth assembly district. Up to within a year ago his power and influence in that organization has never been suspected. But when ex-Mayor Grace made his attack on Purroy the latter took up the gauge of battle and trouble has been brewing between them ever since. Nobody, not even the most intimate friends of Commissioner Purroy, ever suspected, however, that he would take the step that he new contemplates, but since Mayor Grace became imbued with the idea that he will be a candidate for governor, the friends of Governor Hill in the county dem cracy have come to the consussion that a lessive step must be taken and show to the democrats of the state that the only certain way for democratic success is the renomina-tion of Hill for governor. IOWA FREIGHT RATES

Some Startling Information Brought Out in the Investigation. DES MOINES, Ia., July 19 .- [Special Teles ram to The Bee.]-The examination of the railroad commissioners by the atterney for the Rock Island and Burlington, Cedar Rap ids & Northern roads, continued all day and s not yet completed. Several rather startling facts have been brought out by the inquiry. It was shown to-day that the printed senedule of rates which the commisent to the roads as the new rates differed in a dozen particulars from the original copy as agreed upon by the commissioners. The printed copy in one instance includes, under a certain classification, per, doors, sash and blinds," the original copy, when compared, showed only lumber. Another classification showed our loads amounting to 20,000 pounds, while in the original there is no limitation as to weight at all. When asked to explain these variations Commissioner Smith, who has been on the stand all day, said he could not explain them, and did not know how they came to be made.
It will be remembered that before preparing the schedule of rates the commi representatives o nterests to appear and argue the beard. At these heaving the stenographer of the board was presen and took notes of the speeches. The exami nation of the stenographer showed that non-of these notes, except those on the jobbers speeches, had as yet been transcribed for the use of the board. When questioned why i was that the notes on the arguments of th farmers, railroad managers, etc., had not been transcribed for the benefit of the board. the stenographer replied that he had had no time; that other matters had interfered with him doing so, and that he board had not made a special request for him to do so, etc. Commissioner Smith, when questioned dosely, said that a railroad rate might be ust and reasonable when it did not pay the erating expenses of the road that used it age Wishrow then asked him who was to "It's none of my business to my the deficit.

vorry over that," was his reply He Tried to Suicide.

Waterloo, Ia., July 19. - [Special Telegran o The Bee.]-News has just been received of a determined attempt at suicide, about four miles south of Raymond, Monday morning. The would-be suicide, Samuel Hill, a farmer, had swallowed a quart of alcohol and was in ripe condition for anything. A few minutes later he decided to go to town, but his son asked him not to go, whereupon he went up stairs in a drunken rage and proceeded to hang himself from a rafter, but sould only keep his feet clear of the floor by bending his knees, and as he evidently wanted to die he did this. The boy missed is father a few moments later, and after hort search found him hanging by the neek apparently dead. Cutting him down he sumed medical aid and after several hour unconsciousness the man was restored. Mr. Seymour Made a Mistake.

STORM LAKE, In., July 19 .- [Special Telegram to The Bue.j-Sheriff Widdington made a trip to Alta yesterday, and when he returned he had A. W. Seymour in custody under a warrant sworn out by the State Insurance company. It seems that Mr. Seymour was in the habit of taking applications for insurance and receiving the payment on the same, but instead of sending the money o the commany he would put it in his own seeket and send the company a bogus note. rom the preliminary examination this after oon it would seem that he is a forger and defaulter to the amount of about $3,500. He was bound over to the grand jury, the bond being fixed at $800. A New Cattle Disease.

DES MOINES, In., July 19.-A new disease has appeared among the cattle of Webster county, from which many have died. The disease appeared very suddenly in different droves of cattle and rapidly spread until en tire droves are now effected. The approach of the disease is marked by vomiting and loss of appetite, and generally within twentyfour hours death results.

Crop Prospects Good. Masox City, July 19 .- [Special: Telegram o The Bee.]-Small grain will be ready for harvesting in about ten days. The present respects for all kinds of small grain, except wheat, are flattering. Wheat is badly rusted in the leaf. Corn is growing rapidly and is considered safe. Judge Miracle Resigns. DES MOINES, Ia., July 19 .- [Special Tele-

THE VOTE ON THE MILLS BILL

Final Action on the Measure to Be Taken To-morrow.

ITS AUTHOR TO SPEAK AN HOUR.

Probabilities as to Its Majority-What the Senate Is Doing on the Tariff-A Row in Georgia.

To-morrow in the House. WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMAHA BER, 1

513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19. At half past 11 o'clock on next Saturday morning the Mills tariff bill will be taken up for final action. Its author will be given one hour in which to address the house, and then the final vote will be taken on the measure, There may be a few separate votes on some of the most important amendments but the vote on the measure as it now stands will be taken about 2 o'clock.

There are various estimates as to the malority the bill will receive. Chairman Mills thinks there will not be over four or five democratic votes cast against it, and that therefore it will be accepted by from ten to twelve majority. He concedes that Sowden of Pennsylvania, Foran of Ohio and probably McAdoo and Pidcock, of New Jersey, democrats, will vote against the measure, and says it is probable that Greenman and Merciman, of New York, democrats, will vote in opposition to its adoption. The republicans say that only one man sitting on their side would vote for the bill, and he is Anderson, of Iowa, who is not regarded as a republican, but an independent, with strong free trade sentiments. Some of the democrats say that seven of their number and one independent will cast their votes against the bill, making in all 160 against it, and that there will be but 115 votes for the bill, giving it a majority of five. This esti-mate comes from the Randall men. Mr. Ran-dall is not paired, and of course will not have an opportunity to vote, being very iii. When the bill is passed Chairman Mills intends to propose an adjournment of the house until Tuesday, so as to give the members an op-portunity to catch up in their work and get a little rest. The house has been meeting at 11 e'clock in the morning for about two months, and there have been night sessions three or four times a week during the past month, so that the members have run behind in their correspondence and are almost worn out with

WORK.
THE TAMPP OUTLOOK IN THE SENATE. The republicans in the senate are divided in their opinions as to what will be done on the subject of tariff in that body at this seson. The measure which a sub-committee of e senate committee on finance has been outpling during the past six or eight weeks has not been taken up formally. There is a mass of information on the table in the comnittee room, but the sub-committee has not yet been able to do any real work towards putting the bill together, although the bulk of the work is complete. Mr Allison, chairman of the sub-committee, said to me this afternoon that it would be some days yet before the sub-committee would be ready to lay its bill before the full committee, and that it would be two weeks at least before the full committee had its bill ready to report to the senate; in fact, it might not get its bill on the calendar before the end of August, Several members of the senate say they do not believe it wise to attempt any action on the bill which will be reported from the com-mittee on finance at this session and that it will be better to let it go over till December. because the senate will want a month in which to debate the bill and the debate canat commence much before September.

Gracy, editor of the Atlanta Constitu-tion, who is a prominent member of Georgia's Chautauqua society, a few days ago re-quested Scoutor Colquit and Representative Stewart to invite Representative McKinley of Onio to visit the meeting of the society next week, with Speaker Carlisle, and deliver a toriff talk. Colquitt and Stewart have flatly refused to comply with the re-quest. Although Speake r Criisle is to deiver a free trade speech, they do not want Major McKinley there to talk tariff protec-Major McKinley there to talk tariff protec-tion; that it would mark the event as a political one and that it is non-partisan. It is probable that there will be such a row over it that Mr. Carlisle will not attend the meetng. The fact is there is a strong protective centiment growing in Georgia, and the free traders are afraid to let McKinley speak in the state at this time. NEBRASKA MAIL CHANGES.
